

Do you want to have a dissertation, undergraduate thesis, master's degree thesis, or other academic work printed?

Does your university require a minimum number of copies of your doctoral dissertation?

Many publishers demand thousands of euros for such printing orders.

With us you can have your book published for a fractional amount of the normal cost, and with a bit of skill this can be done completely without the need for a publishing grant!

Our system is simple and works well. In cooperation with the publishing house Verlag für Kultur und Wissenschaft and with a required purchase at half-price, we offer an incomparable cost-benefit ratio.

Read the following two pages relating to our work to find out the steps involved.

Step 1

Our method is simple and effective:

We work with the publishing house Verlag für Kultur und Wissenschaft. For more than twenty years they have printed academic books and book series.

What this means for you, among others, is the following:

ISBN number

Possible acceptance into an academic book series with an ISSN number

Entry into the directory of available books

Automatic acceptance by libraries

Overnight delivery to the bookselling trade by ICMedienhaus

Automatic listing in large book directories such as buchhandel.de, booklooker.de, buecher.de, and the like

Good-looking books and not 'cheap internet print shop' quality that one does not want to have associated with one's name

The possibility of printing individual copies

We typeset your book so that it corresponds to the standards of an academic book

If you are convinced of our quality standards, you can take a look at our pricing program on the following pages.

The best thing is, namely, not that our prices are incredibly reasonable in comparison, but that we offer you the opportunity of publishing your book completely cost neutral and free of any form of publishing grant!

Step 2

So you want to print an academic book but do not believe that it can be done in a cost neutral fashion?

Our suggestion:

On the following page you can calculate the individual price for your book.

Initially you have the choice between DIN A4 and DIN A5 (or DIN A6 by request), whereby DIN A5 is the normal book format.

Furthermore, we proceed on the basis of the number of pages. Color pages (e.g., for photos and tables) cost somewhat more.

We can conduct a one-time design of the jacket for €100 extra, and if you are involved in the process, e.g., if you provide a picture or the like, the cost is accordingly lower.

The result is a book price with the same cost as in a bookstore.

As the author you receive your books for 50% off, now and in the future.

If in turn you sell books, e.g., to your circle of friends or when giving lectures or presentations or via Amazon, you receive the amount of money that precisely matches your costs!

You likewise receive the obligatory copies for the university at a lower price than can be achieved anywhere else, namely likewise at 50% off. Thus you do not pay the full price for the mandatory copies that have to be submitted.

Take a look at the book calculator on the next page.

Step 3

You finde the calculator on this webpage:

Step 4

After you now know how much your book would cost, you surely still have some questions or points which are unclear.

A down payment of 20% is common at the time the contract is signed, while the remaining 80% is due upon delivery of goods.

Even if you do not want to sell a single book, our offer is far below standard prices.

A normal dissertation with the average amount of work at one of the 'large publishing houses' costs far in excess of €5,000, and for this amount you receive only a few or no copies.

With us you additionally have the one-time possibility of recouping all of your printing costs with just a little work.

What you can achieve with us is by far the most reasonable way of publishing via an academic publishing house while at the same time receiving good quality (see sample copy). That is the least of it. Beyond that, you can also completely finance your work yourself, which makes us unbeatable.

The sole restriction is the right of a series publisher to refuse individual books. However, this is addressed in a personal discussion and in such case another solution can almost always be sought.

We likewise have no author's royalties. The author furthermore has the right to continue to order copies at half price without limitation, as long as at least a minimum number of 20 copies is ordered.

Please feel free to contact us using the contact form. We will respond as soon as possible by telephone.

With best regards,
